

Christina Anastasia Rapidi, MD, PhD, graduated in Medicine from Patras University of Greece in 1985 and completed her training in Physical & Rehabilitation Medicine (PRM) in 1991. She conducted her PhD in 2002 in the University of Athens. Since 2015 she is working as a senior consultant in the PRM Department of the General Hospital "G.Gennimatas" (NHS) in Athens, and since 2018 she took over as head of the department. Prior to this position she was consultant in 2nd PRM Department & scientific director of Neurogenic bladder unit of the National Rehabilitation Center, Athens, Greece. Dr. Rapidi's interests include neuro-rehabilitation, autonomic nervous system dysfunction, neurogenic bladder and bowel, pelvic floor rehabilitation. She is also interested in improving functioning of the rehabilitation team and medical education. Since 2008 she is certificated as European Board Trainer in PRM. She is President of the Hellenic SCI section of the Hellenic Society of PRM, affiliated member of ISCoS. Since 2014 she is Head of the Special Interest Scientific Committee of the European Society of Physical and Rehabilitation Medicine (ESPRM) for SCI. During 2013-2016 she was a member of the Editorial Board of "Spinal Cord", and since 2017 she is associated editor of Spinal Cord Series and Cases, both official journals of ISCoS. She is a co-author of the Chapter of "Autonomic Dysreflexia" in the ISCoS Textbook on Comprehensive Management for SCI.