

Martine Goossens has a master in Roman Philology. She owns her own translation company and is specialised in the medical field. Since 2010, she is also staff member of the Belgian Centre for Evidence-Based Medicine. Her main tasks are validating clinical guidelines and translating scientific information to a layperson audience. She is also staff member of the Belgian Working group Development of primary care guidelines and is involved in the guideline adaptation projects supervised by Ebpracticenet.